

And wait...

And then...

You've reproduced your computational environment in the cloud - which you can visit any time via your web browser!